Project

Web development

The original site was very complex and lacked personality. So, in addition to improving the functionality and fresh site structure, we also added stronger imagery to give the site more appeal and to reflect CNT's personality.

This site offers many new features and enhancements, designed to make finding information even more simple and effective. The launch of the site signifies the start of a new look for CNT, moving away from the traditional orange and black logo to a fresh, new green identity, to reflect its commitment to providing greener IT solutions for all clients.
