Project

Trustee Good Practice Guide

Before any pension scheme can be brought into the PPF portfolio, it must go through a strict validation process. Appointed trustees have a responsibility to participate in this process. It was therefore important to produce guidance information, to help trustees fully understand their duties and provide easy reference for them.

The proposed design for the Trustee Good Practice Guide was implemented as a 70 page printed document, produced in loose-leaf format to allow for simple updating as and when necessary. A clear structure makes access easy to the technical information along with an extensive glossary and further reading resources.

Project details:

- Design tested in consultation process
- Cost-effective loose-leaf format
- Interactive website

Also for this client:

- Brand creation
- Corporate communications
